Arrangements for Study/Technical Tours

1. There are three categories of tours: (i) One-day or half-day tours (generally non-technical), usually held during the conference for accompanied persons, which may or may not be provided within the registration fee for the conference; (ii) Post-conference tours provided at extra cost and lasting 1-3 days; (iii) Networking tours, similar to (i) but held before the conference starts to provide an opportunity for the delegates (and accompanying persons) to get to know one another and the region of the conference at extra cost.
2. More than one choice of tour may be offered in the case of category (i) and (ii). In case there is insufficient interest in a particular tour, delegates should be warned that it may be cancelled. If delegates are asked to express a second or third choice then this can help in arranging a satisfactory alternative.
3. Extra cost and time spend in the study tours must be justified by the tour's technical value. Apart from the technical value, the tours may also have touristic, social or cultural content but the technical component is paramount and essential. Some delegates have to submit reports to their sponsors and/or they may have difficulty with the language. Printed information is especially helpful here. Tour should have the necessary content relevant to the broad interest of managing water for sustainable agriculture.
4. The Tours may be arranged through a professional tour company. The costs of such tours and visits can be additional to the accompanying person's registration fee, but the cost should be competitive with tours available to ordinary visitors.
5. It is important that the tour is not too ambitious and keeps to time. The route should be explored beforehand knowing that the speed and access of the bus may not be easy. A time should be scheduled for each stop and on the day, the delegates should be given a strict time and signal to re-board the bus.
6. Apart from the touristic guide, one representative preferably a bi-lingual from the Organizing Committee is preferred to accompany each coach of the tour. The person provides a commentary on public address system of the places being visited and seen during the tour.
7. Participants should be provided with pocket-size programme cards in English/French for reference during the tours. The delegates should be provided with adequate information about the schedule, route and stops, including printed information sheets and maps giving names and other key information. Separate card for the programme and time table for each tour day is preferable. Provide a complete list of participants of the tour and the designated coaches they are travelling in.
8. During a tour, pre-recorded taped commentary both in English and French could be played for participants as introduction.
9. Some tour companies like to give time for delegates to stop and shop where possibly they get a commission. Such stops are not appropriate for technical tours and therefore tour companies need to exercise caution.
10. A follow-up car is useful to collect those who miss the bus to avoid the common problem of 1-2 people holding up the whole tour. This may be especially important if there is an evening event or delegates are catching planes etc.
11. Drinking water, and possibly a toilet, should be available on the bus. If toilet facilities are unavailable or limited at certain stops, then delegates should be warned of this.
12. There should be a contingency plan for dealing with inclement weather (e.g. heavy rain), disabled access, sudden illness, accidents etc.
